

Good Academic Standing

Graduate certificate, credential, and master's degree students are considered to be in good academic standing if they maintain a cumulative GPA of 3.0.

Doctoral students must maintain a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 in 700-level courses and receive no grade below B- in 700-level courses.

All School of Education students have additional requirements related to good academic standing; refer to the School of Education Academic Policies (<http://catalog.apu.edu/academics/college-education-behavioral-sciences/school-education/academic-policies/>) catalog page for further details. If you have questions about School of Education (<https://www.apu.edu/education/>) policies, contact the appropriate program or department.